How will you know when you are receiving value (i.e. your money's worth) from these session with me?

How does your life look with the problem gone?

Is there anything else I should know about your health or life before your session?

I understand that I may experience changes in my mind/body system after these sessions for up to 10 days.

I.e., urine changing colour, a cold, cough etc.

This is natural and it is a way for my body to release the negative energy blocks within me.

I understand that it is not possible for this energy to cause any physical harm to me and these sessions can only improve my health & wealth.

I understand that there is no charge for the appointment change if I give at least 24 hours' notice my payment will be held and I can reschedule the session at no extra charge.

If I give less than 24 hours' notice I will be charged full price. If I am paying by instalments the full price will be deducted from my credit card.

Please read Terms & Conditions disclaimer. I understand that the sessions start at my scheduled time and it is my responsibility to arrive on time or if my sessions are by distance to phone at the appointment time by phone or Zoom.

Sessions may be recorded, and notes are taken.

Responsibilities

I would like to take this opportunity to share the Coach and Client responsibilities.

As your Coach you have my guarantee that I will always act in a polite and professional manner. I will use all my training and experience to get the best possible results for you. I take confidentiality very seriously and will never share anything that you tell me.

My responsibility is to help you clear your blocks during these sessions, and this responsibility ends at the end of the session, when I hand responsibility for making changes in your life over to you.

As a Client I expect certain responsibilities from you (consider your contract with me):

1. I need you to be honest with me. If I ask you about trauma in your life, it is because I need you to acknowledge it. Sometimes it is so personal or embarrassing that you don't want to tell me. That's OK, there's a way to "work around", but I need you to still acknowledge that there something there. If you suppress or hide it, I may not be able to help you.

2. Healing is ultimately your responsibility. Though I will do everything in my power to help, the final step will be made by you. My job is to help you release your trauma and hidden energetic blocks. That is like opening new doors for you. Your session will open many doors – which one you step through is your choice.

- 3 It is important that you know you have free will at every step of the process, and the actual transformation (the physical change or change in life habits) comes when you choose it.

Measuring your progress

Many people will feel a significant energetic shift even after their first session, and this is often reflected in a positive change in circumstances.

Its “OK” that your material body/your nervous system might need a little while to process change.

Simply rest more and practice your favourite self-care routines!

I honour you for taking this opportunity and I look forward to working with you!
